Entered at the Postoffice at Barre as Second Class Matter.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.
Subscriptions: One Year, $3; One Month, 25 cts; Single Copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1901.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,854

One of the important features of William Randolph Hearst's canvass for mayor of New York was the opportunity for him to put $66,000 cash in circulation.

And now the town of Jamaica puts in a bid for the state tuberculosis sanitarium. As we understand it, the entries were closed some time since and the location chosen.

The Yale Freshies seem to have marked Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., for slaughter in Saturday's football game, and they came near doing it. But the son of the President was game.

Labor interests in Vermont have lost a valiant supporter in the removal of George A. Smith of Rutland to another state. As Rutland's representative in the last session of the Vermont legislature, he jealously guarded the bulwarks of the labor movement. There was not a bill introduced, having especial relation to labor, that did not receive close perusal by him. In committee his work was particularly noticeable in his efforts to secure legislation favorable to labor. As editor of the labor paper, the Vermont Union Signal, he was an earnest writer and an able champion.

THE TRADING STAMP AS A WRECK.

It seems that the trading stamp was the rock which caused the shipwreck of the Rutland Merchants' association, recently defunct. The association at one time was composed of one hundred members, and was a powerful, harmonious organization, working for its own interests and the good of Rutland. Three years ago the trading stamp discussion was thrust into the councils of the organization, with the result that the members were divided, some wishing to buy the stamps and others refusing point-blank. Then a meeting was called to discuss the situation, not, however, under the auspices of the association. This, it appears, was the turning-point in the association's career, for afterwards it was impossible to secure more than half a dozen members to attend the meetings. No meeting has been held for two years.

The failure of this organization of business men in Rutland should serve as an object lesson for similar organizations, in which like divisions are apt to occur. It may not be the trading stamp which is thrust in as the entering wedge of discord. There are numerous other agencies which tend to disrupt, and chief among them is selfishness.

MADE-OVER FOOT BALL.

The discussion of the brutality of foot ball is brought nearer home by the action of the principal of Burlington high school in forbidding the game in his school, or until such time as a modification in the rules make liability to life and limb less certain. This call for abolishing the American Rugby game has not been general, nor has it been found in any but the preparatory schools and the smaller colleges, with the single exception of Harvard university. This latter institution, through its head coach, W. T. Reid, has set the stamp of disapproval on the sport as it is now played. In a recent letter Mr. Reid, who has probably passed through as rough playing as any man in the game, characterizes the game as "too brutal," and declares that modifications in the style of playing is all that will save the game from condemnation. Thus far the larger institutions have not seen fit to follow the suggestion of the Harvard man, which is probably accounted for by the fact that there is a fear that in the attempt to modify the game will be torn to pieces so that it will lose its distinctively American college features, something of which the students are quite jealous. However, it is reasonable to suppose that with the close of the present season there will be a concerted effort put forth to change the rules to the end that the rough features will be eliminated.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Will Need Sanitarium.

The Vermont papers are becoming educated on the subject of sanitarium and sanitarium, one being a healing place and the other a healthy place. After the next state republican convention a sanitarium will come in handy for somebody.—Rutland Herald.

Vermont Farmers' Chance.

With turkeys retailing in Burlington and other towns for thirty-four cents a pound, can any land-owner in this vicinity advance a valid reason why he should fail to try to help meet the demand for Thanksgiving birds? So long as Vermont farmers fail to take advantage of opportunities like these—and there are others—it is useless to talk about the meat trust's ruinous competition.—Burlington Free Press.

Judges and Their Salaries.

About how much stock does the legal fraternity expect the state at large to take in the argument that the judges of the supreme court are overworked when there is such a multiplicity of active candidates for a place on the bench the moment one becomes vacant? The hard-headed Yankee will reason that if Thanksgiving, Football, Horse Show and Overcoat Weather every day. We're all ready to make you all ready for anything—from a political primary to a peace conference.

WE CLEAN, PRESS AND REPAIR CLOTHING.

F. H. ROGERS & Co.
174 Main Street, Barre, Vt.

The duties of the judge are so onerous and so ill paid, it is singular that there are always so many aspirants for the job. And among the candidates there is always a plenty of good material—as good as can be found in the state—from which to select. As usual, there is now the same unseemly scramble as ever, in the case of the existing vacancy. Almost before Judge Starr had breathed his last it began, and before his burial a hot campaign was on, waged by petitions and letters all over the state. It is a most undignified and disrespectful proceeding, and it would serve the whole bunch of "rooters" right if Gov. Bell should exercise his good sense by naming somebody who demonstrated a degree of judicial sense sufficient to keep him from soliciting a dead man's place before his body was committed to earth.—Rutland Herald and News.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

OPENED BY MANN BROS.

Correction of Statement Regarding Recent Quarry Sale.

Mr. Editor: I notice in your Saturday Times of May 18th and 19th your report of the quarry sale of Mann Brothers. You say it was opened and operated by them, which is a mistake. This quarry was bought and opened by the Mann brothers in 1886. It was purchased of Wetmore & Morse. There were four acres in the piece and the consideration was ($1,500.00) one thousand five hundred dollars. It originally belonged to Ira P. Harrington and was purchased from him by Wetmore & Morse and Parkhurst & Thurston, and then started to open it and though the stock was not good and quit it. They quarried a large base for a firm and it cost them ($300.00) three hundred dollars to get it from the quarries to the city.

Mann brothers operated it for eight years and then G. W. Mann bought out his brother and ran it one year, and then leased it to Mann & Gordon for five years for ($1,500.00) one thousand and eight hundred dollars a year, with the privilege of buying it at any time within the five years for ($20,000.00) twenty thousand dollars. At the end of the fourth year they took the quarry and have operated it ever since.

G. W. MANN.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Won't Worry About It.

A girl named Luella Barnett was wondering why rain should be wet. Said she: "Winds that blow should dry it, you know; Still, over it I shall not fret."—Kansas City Times.

Their Weakness.

The college professor led us across the campus and showed us the female foot ball team.

"But," we protested, "they all have short hair. We thought foot ball players wore long hair!"

"Only male foot ball players," elucidated our guide. "If girl players wore long hair they would begin a hair-pulling match during the first struggle."—Chicago News.

Had Been a Train Caller.

Diner—Give me a plate of pork and beans and hurry 'em up.
Waiter (shouting)—Chicago and Boston express!—Cleveland Leader.

Cause for Joy.

"You seem happy, old man."
"I am. I own a bicycle now."
"Why I thought you put your wheel away several years ago and stopped using it."
"So I did, but I just paid the last instalment on it last week."—Philadelphia Press.

POSSESSION.

When Willie got his toy balloon His look was proud, his laugh was gay;

But, weary of it, pretty soon, He calmly let it float away. Like little Willie, you and I, Reach after things that glow and gleam,

And, having gained them, by and by, Forget how dear they used to seem. But we, unlike the little boy, Who merely casts away the string, And rids himself thus of the toy, Find out too often that the thing Which brings no gain and yields no joy, Though once we deemed it such a prize

Must claim our care and be a drag Till hopes that once went soaring lag And pride is lost and ardor dies. —Chicago Record-Herald.

PRINCE LOUIS REGRETS TO LEAVE AMERICA

Says He Has Been Given a Cordial Welcome by All People and Appreciates All the Honor.

New York, Nov. 20.—Prince Louis, who left New York today, ended a busy day of social engagements last night at the New York Theatre concert, where he was greeted with rousing cheers, and after he had entered his box he was obliged to stand and bow his response to the noisy welcome.

Shortly after returning to his hotel the prince made what he said would be his last public statement before sailing for home. He said:

"We shall leave here with the greatest feeling of regret, and there is not one of us who would not have liked to have made our stay much longer. From President Roosevelt down, every class and population has indeed offered us a cordial welcome in one way or another. I want to mention particularly the reception given me by the New York Yacht club. The famous America's cup was on the table, and I was permitted to 'lift it'—for two minutes. It's a little too heavy."

"Let me say that I consider the demonstrations given us as entirely directed toward our country, and I know they are appreciated. For myself, I do not count. I am simply the representative of my country. In departing I wish to express my appreciation for all that has been done in our honor."

GRANGE MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Large Attendance Yesterday—Warm Debate Over Convict Labor.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 20.—The National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, yesterday held memorial services which were attended by 2,000 patrons and their wives. Chief Granger Aaron Jones presided.

Among the resolutions to come up for debate today is one by E. E. Detrick of Ohio, which suggests the employment of convict labor on highway. This resolution is liable to cause considerable discussion, as it is held that it will come in conflict with labor unions.

A Long-time Professor.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Prof. John I. Morris of Cornell, aged 73, died at his home here last night from a paralytic stroke complicated with pneumonia. Until he retired last year Prof. Morris had been at the head of the mechanical arts department of Sibley College since 1868.

"GREAT OAKS FROM LITTLE ACORNS GROW."

"In saving money many persons say they can save so little that it is not worth while to save at all. If you can save but little you ought to be the more anxious to save, and if you persevere you will presently be surprised at the amount of your savings. Many a millionaire has said that the first thousand dollars was the hardest part of his fortune to get. You are not likely to be millionaires, but it is possible for many of you who are not doing so to save very considerable amounts, which, if safely invested, will work for you day and night, and will add to your comfort, your self-respect, and especially give you the feeling of security against illness or loss of position."—Ladies' Home Journal for September.

MORGAN BREEDERS' MEETING.

It Will Be Held at Middlebury, Nov. 24.—Increased Interest.

Middlebury, Nov. 20.—Secretary H. T. Cutts of Orwell of the Vermont Morgan Horse Breeders' Association, has issued a call for the annual meeting of the association to take place in this town on Friday afternoon, November 24, at 2 o'clock. The session will be held in the Bartlett building. In addition to the annual election of officers and other routine business which will be brought up there will doubtless be an interesting discussion regarding the establishment of the experimental breeding farm soon to be located in Vermont, under the direction of the national department of agriculture, for the purpose of breeding Morgan horses.

As the membership roll of the association contains the names of prominent breeders and many public officials both of the state and federal governments, the attendance will doubtless be larger than for some years past at the annual meetings, particularly from the fact that the Morgan horse breeding industry has received a decided stimulus during the past five years throughout the country. At the Chicago world's fair, at the Buffalo and the St. Louis expositions, the Morgan horse predominated as a feature of the horse departments, and to the Vermont association, largely, was the credit due for the publicity given the Morgans.

The present officers of the association are: President, ex-Governor John W. Stewart of Middlebury; vice presidents, Fletcher D. Proctor of Proctor, ex-Governor Carroll S. Page of Hyde Park, R. W. Goodrich of Rutland, M. T. Gratton of Preston, Minn., L. T. Dorsey of Anchorage, Ky., C. X. Larrabee of Belknap, Wash., secretary, H. T. Cutts of Orwell, treasurer, C. E. Pinney of Middlebury.

The members of the association are decidedly sanguine over the outlook for the Morgan industry in Vermont during the next decade and predict that the palmy days of a quarter of a century past will not only return but will be surpassed.

BERNHARDT ON RECORD TRIP.

Noted Actress Says It Is Her Farewell Tour of America.

New York, Nov. 20.—In a private car Sarah Bernhardt left New York for Chicago last night over the New York Central railroad on a special schedule which the railroad officials say will bring her to her destination in 18 hours.

The actress and her company are booked to open in the western city tonight. Mme. Bernhardt and her company arrived in New York late yesterday on the steamer La Touraine and immediately the vessel was warped into her dock, the work of unloading the baggage and scenery was begun by a score or more of men. Two hundred and fifty trunks, a third of them belonging to Mme. Bernhardt herself, with scenery were placed on drays and taken to the grand central station, where a special train of five cars was waiting to pull out for the fast run to the West at six o'clock. It was nearly two hours later, however, when the work of loading was complete and the trip began. Stops will be made only to change engines.

As to her tour, which includes a visit to Montreal, Mme. Bernhardt said: "This is really my farewell tour of America. I love the country, I will be sorry to go and not return, but I cannot help it."

CHELSEA.

Col. C. S. Emery is confined to his home with rheumatic trouble and is under the care of Dr. F. H. Godfrey.

Hon. Hale K. Darling came from Montpelier Saturday to spend the Sabbath with his family.

Russell R. Corwin left Friday morning for Massachusetts, where he will spend his vacation with his uncle, Charles and Vinton Corwin of Boston, and Harry Corwin of Lowell.

Arleen Baran is ill with the measles as is Frank Longue who resides on the West Hill.

The Laing Brothers gave a clean and interesting moving picture entertainment at the opera house Saturday evening and were very well patronized.

Deputy Sheriff B. H. Adams, Jr., returned from the first of the week from a business trip which took him to Stratford, White River Junction, and West Lebanon, N. H.

Madam Griffith, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest A. Corwin on Main street, is seriously ill with pneumonia. A nurse arrived from Burlington Saturday to care for her. Dr. J. E. Fish of South Royalton has been called here twice in consultation with her family physician, Dr. M. H. Corwin.

Miss Grace Bacon, who teaches in the intermediate room in the Williamstown graded school, is spending a two weeks' vacation on the West Hill with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Bacon.

Miss Laura Fuller came Saturday from Sharon, where she is teaching in the graded school and will spend two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Taplin, who resides near the Washington line.

Both Prof. W. J. Harrington of Boston, Mass., and Miss Augusta Bigelow of Champlain, N. Y., who are in town for a week, stopping at the Orange County Hotel, sang at the Methodist church Sunday morning and the Congregational church Sunday evening.

"Tom" G. Dearborn and Mrs. Ida Savage of Royalton Center were married at Fairlee Thursday, the 16th inst. Mrs. Dearborn is the cook at the hotel and "Tom" holds the responsible position of clerk, and with the reputation of being one of the most popular all-around hotel men in this section of Vermont. Congratulations are extended.

At the office of Darling and Wilson, Saturday forenoon, a suit between Townsend & Wilney, plaintiffs, and W. H. Black, defendant, to recover the balance due on a lien note was heard before Justice John M. Constock, who rendered judgment for the plaintiffs, and a justice's execution was issued against property of the defendant already under attachment to satisfy the claim with taxable costs added. Darling and Wilson appeared for the plaintiffs, while the defendant handled his own case with astute legal sagacity.

More New Coats! More New Furs!

There are some women who have yet to find out what choice things there are kept in this little store.

About every day someone says: "Oh! I didn't know you could get such things here." A bit of investigation will prove profitable and delightful to the "don't know about us" kind, for in every nook and corner of this little old shop of ours are many pleasant surprises for the lover of the just-right sort of merchandise, and this is especially true of our Coat stock just now with 50 new models just in.

Our Coat Qualities begin where there is a sufficient amount of goodness to make the garment worthy and go as high as you want to pay for. $10.00 to $100.00 each is about the size of it, with an especially strong line at $15.00, $16.50, $18.00, $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00.

Our Furs.—A look is very convincing that our Furs came from pretty aristocratic animals and when they were in the pink of condition. No matter what the Fur is, it must be perfect before we accept it. We sell Mink, Beaver, Fox, Marten, Squirrel, Opossum and one other kind that isn't worth mentioning.
